DEAFVIBE'S BLACKPOOL TRIP

Written by Andrew Dawson.

DEAFvibe's first ever trip on 10th October was to Blackpool. Everyone had a really good time. We travelled up by coach, which happily had wheelchair access for those needing it. We spent the journey chatting and catching up with each others' news.

Once we got to Blackpool, we all went our separate ways, some went to the fair, some went to the top of Blackpool Tower and some to Madam Tussauds.

Improvements have been made to the Promenade and there are new trams, but otherwise it is still the same; busy with lots to see and plenty of places to eat.

We travelled home through the fabulous Blackpool Illuminations. The displays were spectacular and colourful including a Tardis, cartoon characters and clowns.

Everyone enjoyed the opportunity to have quality time with friends and family and pose for photographs with the waxworks at Madame Tussauds. See the full article and photos on the DEAFvibe Website in Everyday Stories.

STUDENT NURSES STAY SILENT FOR DEAFVIBE

DEAFvibe is pleased to announce that a group of student nurses from Keele University kindly did a sponsored silence to raise money to support DEAFvibe.

The nurses who have been learning about deafness will be at the November café to tell us more.

DEAFvibe is always grateful for fundraising to ensure the continuation of its service, so a big thank you goes to all of the nurses involved.
